A COLLECTION FOR BLURRING THE BOUNDARIES BETWEEN INTERIOR AND EXTERIOR SPACES.

When we decided to create our outdoor collection, our route was clear and open. We wanted to maintain the defining elements, design language and characteristics of our indoor collection but wanted to add fresh materials, touches and production techniques to accommodate urban outdoor living.

While designing the outdoor collection we specifically asked ourselves how we can pull the inside out and the outside in. "How could we ensure the seamless integration and enable a continuous flow between interior and exterior spaces?"

The answer to this question requested us leaving the traditional route of outdoor furniture design. Refusing the use of heavy woods, rattans and raw materials enabled us playing with many kinds of materials and creating an urban, modern and light feeling that has the looks of an indoor collection but is fully suitable to outdoor conditions.

According to this philosophy, we looked for comfortable and universal forms that aren't affected by transitionary trends.

These forms however, gained various looks and created different feelings with a diverse choice of materials and colours.
